From high tech experiences such as 3D printing to no-tech crafts like sewing, it is sure to be a great time. Visit with local Madison merchants demonstrating their skills as well as try some yourself. Also participating will be students from Madison Public Schools. The goal of NJ Makers Day is to facilitate connections among NJ residents by exploring new and interesting opportunities for community wide education, entrepreneurship and hands-on learning experiences.

"Saving The Great Swamp" Film Screening - Saturday, March 10th

The Madison Environmental Commission invites you to a FREE Screening. Join your neighbors in viewing this inspiring one-hour documentary about the powerful effects of community activism.

Fifty years ago, local residents worked together to defeat the Port Authority's plans to build a jet port that would have destroyed the Great Swamp. Their activism offers inspiring lessons that we can put into action today to face current environmental threats. March 10, 2:00pm @ Madison Public Library's Chase Room. Karl Fenske, whose family was instrumental in saving the Swamp, will introduce the film. Scott Morris, the film's Director and Co-Producer will be on hand to discuss the film. Light refreshments will be served Discussion will follow the screening.
